(H) Makes changes regarding the following: (1) Clearing ditch obstructions. (2) The drain maintenance fund. Allows the county executive to appoint the county surveyor or the county agricultural educator to an area plan commission. Makes other changes concerning county surveyors.

Effective Date: July 1, 2001; January 1, 2002.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: (A) County Surveyors are already requested by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission to certify information regarding beer retailers located outside the corporate limits of a city or town. The provision places requests of this nature into statute.

(B) Counties may experience an increase in expenditures to pay for the County Surveyor's services in the preparation of road maps.

(E) The County Surveyor would be allowed to update annexation on the property tax records maintained in the Surveyor or Auditor's office. Additionally, the bill would require the County Surveyor to provide maintenance or replacement of worn maps and plats. Expenditures would not necessarily increase if the County Surveyors were already in the process of repairing or replacing these items.

(F) There is no charge to attend the Purdue road school. However, there would be an increase in expenditures due to travel and overnight accommodations, if required. A survey conducted by the Association of Indiana Counties indicates that out of 58 respondents, 40 County Surveyors have attended the Purdue road school.

(G) The County Drainage Board would shift funding from the County General Fund to the County Maintenance Fund. There should be no impact from this provision, as funding in the first year of implementation could be transferred from the County General Fund to the County Maintenance Fund to cover the expense of the Board.

(H) Additional expenditures could occur from the appointment of an extra member to a joint drainage board. Currently, a member of the County Drainage Board and each person employed by the board is paid at a rate equal to that provided by law for state employees for each mile necessarily traveled while performing the duties of the office. The county fiscal body may provide the members of the county executive who serve as members of the board with per diem for their services as members of the board, in an amount fixed by the county fiscal body for each day or major part of a day devoted to the work of the board. Each appointed freeholder member serving on the board is entitled to a per diem in an amount fixed by the county fiscal body for each day or major part of a day devoted to the work of the board.

Joint drainage board expenditures would be paid proportionately by counties representing the total land assessment allocated that the joint drainage board is overseeing or from the Joint Drain's Maintenance Fund. Expenditures from the establishment of the Fund would probably be minimal.

The County Drainage Board would be required to provide notification by certified mail of any hearing being conducted as the result of a petition filed for alleged obstructions of a drain or natural surface watercourse. Rates for certified mail are as follows: $1.90 for certification, $0.34 first class postage (if mail weighs more than an ounce), and $1.50 for certification card.

Explanation of Local Revenues: (C) The county would be allowed by ordinance to prescribe a monetary penalty for moving a monument without complying with state law or that is a part of the National Spatial Reference System. Local revenues could increase for a county adopting an ordinance under this provision.

(H) Currently, if the County Maintenance Fund in any year has an unencumbered balance equal to or greater than four times the estimated annual cost of periodically maintaining the drain for which the fund was established, the annual assessment for the maintenance of the drain is omitted for that year.

The bill increases the ceiling to eight times the estimated annual cost of periodically maintaining the drain. Revenue could increase if additional assessments are done as a result of this provision.
